About me

Solutions Developer and UX/UI Designer with expertise in systems integration, data management, and human-centered design. With over 20 years of experience, I create scalable, secure solutions by combining innovative design and impactful systems architecture. Skilled in Power BI, SharePoint, PHP, WordPress, and Azure, I leverage platforms like Salesforce to meet business needs. I specialize in integrated solutions for web development and data management, culminating in data visualization and reporting that drive human value and data-driven decision-making.
